

Study Invitation For Parents

Are You Caring for An Adult Child with Serious Mental Illness?

The research study is being done to:

- Learn more about how parents manage the day-to-day care of their adult children with serious mental illness and what affects your management style.
- Improve mental health care services to families dealing with serious mental illness.

The research study involves:

- An interview with doctoral student and psychiatric nurse, Kathryn Raymond, MS, RN, at a time and place convenient for you.
- Voluntary participation.
- All information being kept confidential

If you would like to participate:

- You must be the parent of an adult child age 18 or older with a diagnosis of schizophrenia, schizoaffective disorder, or bipolar disorder who is or has been involved in his/her care.
- Please Contact: Kathryn Raymond, MS, RN, at (774) 757-8005 or at kathryn.raymond@umassmed.edu.

Thank you!
